Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. Claims 1-6, 13, 19, 22-28, 35, 41, and 44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Davis (US 6,157,654).

Regarding claims 1, 13, 23, 35, Davis teaches a method and apparatus for an integrated connection admission control (CAC) (fig. 1 box 12) and bandwidth on demand (BoD) (fig. 1 box 16) system for allocating the resource of a common medium uplink of a multiple access (MA) asynchronous network (col. 2 lines 7-14).

The CAC comprises a means^e for allocating static resource to all virtual connection (VCs) or groupings of VCs accepted by the CAC (trBW, col. 5 lines 8-11, 38-40, Table 1) and means for booking dynamic resource to the VCs that require guaranteed dynamic resource (ssBW, col. 5 lines 22-24, 38-40, Table 2).

The BoD/WFQ Control comprises means for allocating dynamic resource to VCs or to groupings of VCs requesting dynamic resource in such a way that all VCs or grouping of VCs requesting dynamic resource are dynamically allocated resource up to at least the guaranteed dynamic resource which has been booked for them by the CAC (col. 5 lines 40-42, spare bandwidth, col. 6 lines 57-61).

Art Unit: 2666

Regarding claims 13, 23, 35, in addition to the limitations in claim 1, Davis teaches when the requested resource from the VC or group of VCs is less than or equal to the booked dynamic resource for the VC or group of VCs, the BoD allocates the VC or group of VCs all the requested resource, when the requested resource from the VC or group of VCs is greater than the booked dynamic resource for the VC or group of VCs, the BoD allocates the VC or group of VCs the booked dynamic resource and additionally the BoD allocates the VC or group of VCs a share of the remainder of the requested resource, from the remaining resource capacity of the common medium uplink (fig. 3 box 1-4, col. 3 lines 23-35).

Regarding claims 19, 22, 41, and 44, the means for allocating static resource in the CAC and the means for allocating dynamic resource in the BoD are constrained to allocate resource in such a way that traffic on the common medium access uplink is shaped by the integrated CAC and BoD resource allocation system (col. 2 lines 46-52).

Regarding claims 2 and 26, the groupings of VCs are within the same subscriber access unit (SAU) or terminal (source behavior, col. 1, lines 12-18).

Art Unit: 2666

Regarding claims 3 and 24, the means for allocating static resource in the CAC allocates static resource to a VC when a VC is set up for the duration of the connection associated with the VC (col. 4 lines 25-32, col. 5 Tables 1&2, note trBR, the bandwidth associated with CBR and rtVBR has a required minimum value).

Regarding claims 4 and 25, the means for booking dynamic resource in the CAC reserves booked dynamic resource to a VC when a VC is set up for the duration of the connection associated with the VC (guarantee a certain sustained cell rate, col. 5 Table 2, lines 59-63).

Regarding claims 5 and 27, wherein the means for allocating static resource in the CAC allocates static resource to a group of VCs and changes the amount of static resource allocated to a group of VCs when new connections are set up or connections are released within the group (fig. 4, boxes 1, 5-7, col. 7 lines 36-39).

Regarding claims 6 and 28, the means for booking dynamic resource in the CAC books dynamic resource to a group of VCs and changes the amount of booked resource allocated to a group of VCs when new connections are set up or connections are released within the group (fig. 4, boxes 1-4, col. 7 lines 36-39).

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 20-21, 42 and 43 allowed.
3. Claims 7-12, 14-18, 29-34, 36-40 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter.

Regarding claims 7, 8, 29, 30, nothing in the prior art of the record teaches or fairly suggests the specific equation for allocating bandwidth, in combination with the other limitations listed in the claims.

Regarding claims 9-12, 31, 32-34, 40, nothing in the prior art of the record teaches or fairly suggests allocating resources on a periodic basis, in combination with the other limitations listed in the claim.

Regarding claims 14, 16, 36, 38, nothing in the prior art of the record teaches or fairly suggests allocating dynamic resources by maximizing the sum of the natural logarithms, in combination with the other limitations listed in the claims.

Regarding claims 15, 37, nothing in the prior art of the record teaches or fairly suggests allocating dynamic resources by maximizing the product of all the BEs, in combination with the other limitations listed in the claim.

Regarding claims 17, 18, 20, 39, and 42 nothing in the prior art of the record teaches or fairly suggests allocating static resource in the CAC and allocating dynamic resource in the BoD, in combination with the other limitations listed in the claim.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-44 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

The examiner agrees with the applicant that the rejection in the prior office action was not appropriate. Therefore, a new office action has been submitted.
